TWENTY-EIGHTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

We are called to show mercy because mercy has first been shown to us.

VOICES THAT CHALLENGE

THE OUTSTRETCHED HAND OF CHRIST

Pope Francis, reflecting on the immense love of God, said “the Church can never allow herself to act as that priest and Levite who ignored the man half dead at the side of the road. She cannot look away and turn her back on the many forms of poverty that cry out for mercy. Human mercy is not authentic until it has attained tangible expression in the actions of our daily life...You are the outstretched hand of Christ: have you thought this? The credibility of the Church is also conveyed in a convincing way through your service to abandoned children, to the sick, the poor who lack food or work, to the elderly, the homeless, prisoners, refugees and immigrants, to all struck by natural disasters ... The world stands in need of concrete signs of solidarity, especially as it is faced with the temptation to indifference.”

An October Evening Prayer

Day is done, Lord... Autumn's evening chill shivers, turning leaves and me to season's change...The shiver shakes awake the fall within and for any early frost upon my heart: I ask your pardon... And for this day's noontime warmth, October hues and simple joys: I give you praise...Into your Sacred Heart and holy arms receive all those who lean on me and all who care for me...Day is done, Lord...May this night's moon shine bright with peace on all until the sun shall rise again... Amen.

MISSION OF THE SEVENTY-TWO

In this memoir, set as deeply in his mind as in the Southeast Asian jungle, a young American soldier embarks on a journey to a war that, for him, will never be over.

The world was a playground for Mickey, a naive Irish American kid bored with his life. His father served in World War II, his brother was a Marine in Vietnam; now it was his turn. His 365 days in Vietnam builds in torment until an attack on a bunker complex in Cambodia. Wounded, his friend captured, he becomes a tormented survivor knowing he is always just a heartbeat from death.
